

In 2020, there were 48,000 deaths attributed to cancer in Australia.

Infections are the second leading cause of death in people with cancer.

Due to antimicrobial resistance, these infections are more complex to treat, require more costly antibiotics, and longer hospital stays.

In 2020, the Australian Government allocated a significant investment of $934 million towards cancer research.

A M
CANCER

